

Quality is essential to the company competitiveness and, hence, to our survival.

Quality is everyone's business. We are all responsible for doing our job well.

Trust is a factor of progress. We achieve it through professionalism, honesty and quality ethics.

Information and communication are essential to achieve Total Quality.

Training is the basis for technological and human improvement.

Participate. Reflect on your work and improve it.

«Do things right the first time». It is more efficient and effective than detecting and correcting errors.

«Zero defects» is our goal.

Let's eliminate resource waste.

Improving people health and safety and respecting the environment are non-negotiable objectives of AMES.

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "C. Molins", written over a white background.

Dr. César Molins
General Director of AMES